N.M.U. Seamen On Great Lakes Start Strike

CLEVELAND (AP).—The Na-ional Maritime Union (C.I.O.) called its Great Lakes seamen ou on strike today and estimated that sufficient non-union members would join the walkout to paralyze lake shipping within several days.

President Joseph Curran of the N.M.U., in Cleveland to help direct the strike, estimated the At strike headquarters here spokesman said between 4,000 nd 5,000 other seamen were expected to join the work stoppage. he estimated the number of ves-sels operating on the lakes at 360 and said a "large majority" would be idle within a few days.

The spokesman said C.I.O members "from coast to coast' have agreed to co-operate. The extent of the co-operation was not defined. Early reports from union headquarters said pickets were posted at all major lake

Symnathy Strike By 2.500 C.C.L. Members Hinted In Okanagan

PENTICTON (CP)-A repor said Wednesday a Friday dead-line had been set for a strike of 2,500 workers in the Okanagan Valley, members of the Canadian Congress of Labor, in sympathy with striking civic workers in Penticton. However, there was no comment from union officials. - The strike of 70 civic workers, which has halted garbage collec tion in Penticton for eight days, continued deadlocked Wednesday as cafe owners and householders hired private trucks to clear overflowing refuse cans.

The strike was called when the municipal council refused to grant the award of a concillation board recommendation for main-tenance of membership and check-off system for the Civic Workers Union. Sanitary inspector Harry Black said the menace to health is growing steadily because there is no general collection of gar bage. / Municipal ratepayers have called a meeting for Friday night to discuss the situation.

Mindful of this categorical announcement of governmental policy, and having regard for Mr. Howe's further proposal to streamline the highway between this city and Patricia Bay, continued controversy on the wisdom or folly of developing an airport at Gordon Head at this juncture would be poor business. Notwithstanding the minister's intentions as revealed to Mr. Mayhew, however, a contemporary this morning calmly tells us "it is essential to have a clear understanding of just what the Dominion government will do to help Greater Victoria in this emergency." Then we read this:

"Once Gordon Head is gone it is gone. There dation we need so badly.

If and when Mr. Howe tries to reconcile the demand for a "clear understanding" about his plans with the preservation of a local "open mind on both questions"-plus a further "testing" and "probing" processit would not be surprising if he threw up his hands in despair and told Mr. Mayhew independence, to develop their own culture to ask the people of Greater Victoria to de and commerce, and to be free to pursue cide, once and for all, just what they really their own ideas without fear of aggression. want in the matter of modern airport accom modation. And on the question of improved DOING THE 'IMPOSSIBLE' road facilities-one answer to the complaint in respect of the traveling time between plane and centre of population—the article from which we have quoted asks where the money is to come from and wants the Dominion to explain. The answer is simple -from the taxpayers, the same source as would be tapped to carry out the harbor and other local improvements which the same newspaper has been demanding for months. Surely it is realized by this time that the Canadian dollar is not minted with a partizan design. It is intended to and does serve all the political philosophies which are flourishing or waning in this Dominion. Upon the judgment with which it is expended, on the other hand, depends much. Mr. Howe's airport policy for Greater Victoria obviously is a concession to economic prudence.

NO SOONER HAD THE FIRST ATOM bomb virtually blown Hiroshima to smithereens than speculation on the possibilities of this new energy began to run wild in general conversation. There were all kinds of guesses as to when we should have automobiles, airplanes, trains and ships driven by force released from a piece of metal the size of a pea or a lump of coal.

Very shortly afterward, however, it was pointed out that the deadly rays of this released energy would require such a heavy weight of protective metal as to make atomic motive power impractical, at least for personal vehicles. And so almost everybody forgot the whole matter. Almost, but not quite everybody. ## Challenge To C.C.F.

BASIC LIBERAL PRINCIPLES

A FTER TWO YEARS of socialist govern

A ment, it is satisfying to note that the Liberal party in Saskatchewan feels the time has arrived to reassert in clear and unmistakable terms, as its foundation policy the simple basic principles of liberalism in respect to private enterprise and property.

Those principles require restating again and again in these times when difficulties tempt men to easy solutions and when the citizen is prone, in the confusion of his thinking, to yield to authority those rights and privileges which have been won only through centuries of struggle.

The declaration of the Saskatchewan Liberal convention is an encouragement and a rallying point for those who believe in individual and property rights and are opposed to the trends towards authoritarianism which are creeping into the actions of gov

NOWHERE ON THIS North American continent this side of the Rio Grande have these individual and property rights been threatened as they have been in Saslations and state ownership of productive enterprise were imposed reluctantly as a necessity caused by war and something to be discarded as rapidly as possible there-

The policy of the C.C.F. socialist go ernment in Saskatchewan has been that these things are good in themselves and should be extended and perpetuated. It is natural, therefore, that Liberal citizens in that province should be the first to reassert in simple but powerful words the fundamen and Iceland-have applied for membership tal principles that have matured in the long ages of growth from primitive man to the > Saskatchewan Liberals in their annual nvention set forth their creed and faith in these unmistakable words:

"That the fundamental principles of liberalism are the private ownership of land, property, business and industry and the full and free use of individual enterprise and initiative in the use of such possessions, subject only to such restrictions and regulations as are necessary to prevent exploitation of other human beings, waste of our natural resources or other anti-social activities."

This is a direct challenge to the C.C.F government with its state industries and its state entry into the realm of business. It draws the line sharply between these policies which have now been put into effect long enough to show where they are leading. It is well that the line should be sharply drawn for at this time there is confusion in men's political thinking. And it is well that the challenge should be made in Saskatche wan, for Saskatchewan with its agrarian economy, is a natural home of liberalism, as the C.C.F. well knows.

THE CONVENTION at Saskatoon de manded a dynamic leadership that would assert the true principles of liberalism on the main ground on which they have been challenged in Saskatchewan. Before the election of 1944 the party had become lethargic. After its defeat it sank into a kind of coma. But the youth and virile liberalism of Saskatchewan could not long stay in that

In its convention declaration and its selection of a new leader it broke the shackles of lethargy, defied the opponent that is imposing an anti-liberal theory upon the province and showed that it is willing to stand

It is not for Saskatchewan Liberals to accept direction or even guidance from outside their own province but to give leadership and guidance to the Liberal Party elsewhere in Canada where the liberal creed has been damaged by a disregard for civil liberties and by ventures into discriminatory trading on lines devised by the authoritarian Solution of the problems involved is, of countries, actions which are unworthy of the

The convention was happy in its selection depression and five years of war.

THE NEW LEADER, Walter Tucker, federal member for Rosthern, is experienced in politics and parliamentary procedure. He has always stood well over to the left in the party ranks and has shown the dynamic qualities that are required and the spirit of independence that the provincial party needs as much, or more, than anything else.

The Liberal Party of Saskatchewan has now made its declaration of principles in the matter of individual enterprise and property. It has drawn the issue clearly between it and the socialist party. That is only a beginning. The declaration of sound principles is easy. The task is to put them into effect, to satisfy residents of the province that they will be implemented, and that when imple mented they will operate successfully and confer benefits on the community at large. It was in this task that Saskatchewan Liberals failed in recent years and it is in this that the revived party must show energy, enterprise and ability.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: In regard to the complaints that girls are making about the scarcity of dates, I would like to says this:

During the war we servicemen became more or less used to be-ing away from home, but the one ideal that we clung to was the girl we left behind us and whom we dreamed of returning

But now that we are back i seems that during our absence the girls changed. They became used to being chased, especially in the vicinity of army and navy and air force installation, and they look upon us as trained wolves that are dangerous to any member of the opposite sex. So it is hard for us to meet the kind of nice girls we would like to know. Or maybe it is because we have been out of contact with the proper way of doing things so long we actually don't know ow to meet a nice girl, or where. We had dreams of meeting a

Cecil Solly Says:

Mowing—One of the most common complaints about a lawn is that the mowing is a nuisance chore. Of course, a lawn that is properly fed and well watered will grow fairly rapidly, but the mowing need not be too hard a job if reasonable amount of thought is used.

Keep the mower in good work.

Keep the mower in good working order, and sharp. It is not hard to push a mower which is well oiled and cuts the grass properly. Be sure the blades are cut evenly. There is a hardware store in every neighborhood that the well "see" the mower for a very application is only about a half will "set" the mower for a very nominal cost and make your inch.

PERFORATION

Always use a grass catcher. All

Weeds, especially chickweed, will ripen their seeds after being cut. If grass is cut without a catcher being used, and the cut pieces are only about an inch long, they may be left on the lawn. But if the clippings contain pieces of weeds be sure to fine the lawn area to prevent reseeding.

perforation holes, the more this treatment is needed.

Be sure to fill all hodes made before they close, in this instance, with a mixture of coarse sand and peat moss or good soil.

WATERING

The term "water" is used purposely, instead of sprinkling. During the hot summer months, the lawn should be thoroughly calculated to a death of four to five a de to prevent reseeding.

AVOID SHORT CUTTING

A grass turf lawn around the house is not a "putting green" on a golf course, and does not have to be mown as smooth as a billiard table. In attempting to make a lawn look exceptionally smooth, many people set their lawn mowers so they cut. their lawn mowers so they cut shallow rooted turf is easily grass too short. This prevents the grass blades from making enough growth to manufacture food; also in hot weather, the sun beats right down on the crown of the grass and damages the plants. Do not cut lawns shorter than 1½ inches.

It depends on the weather.

It depends on the weather, how fast the grass grows. Plan to cut it as often as is needed. The clippings should never be more than about an inch long. The grass should be one and one-half inches long after cutting. If cut shorter, the lower beyong parts of the grass stems arrange to water on a cloudy day the grass will be greatly benefited. Except during a long spell of hot dry weather, which selfor happens here, it should not be necessary to water the lawn more than once a week.

Thoroughly soak one area of the turf at a time and do not hesitate to assure yourself that be missing.

The cut shorter, the lower has the turf at a time and a hot how he will be exposed, the lawn will look patchy and the lack of shade for the roots, which the proper length grass affords will be missing.

Prospect For Big Wheat Crop Appear Bright To Farmer

These are critical days in the maturing of Canada's grain crop, watched longingly and hungrily by ill-fed Britain and Europe, and the following story tells something of the views and struggle of two western farmers who worked since early spring on this

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASCANA Sask (AP)—"It tould be answered immediately." With those words farmer Jack Forbes, a man who grows wheat for a living, gave forth today on the urgent need for food grains n Europe. He said he felt now was the time to go "all out" on wheat and pointed to his own fields which he farms with his 73-year-old father Bill Forbes to prove he had done just that.

The Forbes reduced their barley crop on their 700 acre farm from the 200 acres they planted last year and this season boosted their wheat acreage 160 acres to round out their rotation system. "We haven't done any summer fallowing since 1929," said the ounger Forbes.

Before him, from his 10-room, hilltop, frame house, Forbes surveyed 360 acres of Durum and Thatcher wheat, 200 acres of oats and 140 of barley. Much of it was in stook, golden and ready for threshing before eventually starting the long road to Europe To grow it has been no smal shore, attendant always with the natural dangers that threaten grains, hail, drought, frost, rust The Forbes' farming day starts at 6 a.m. and ends at 6 p.m. But with threashing the hour stretch out from dawn to dusk and longer sometimes to take care of grain that during the growing season rippled in waves to a prairie wind in the greatest wheat country in the world. It grew some 30 inches high, and, in Jack Forbes' own words, became "as thick as hair on a dog":

Like most western farmers Jack Forbes and his father have been optimistic this season. They got rain when they wanted it and worried as all farmers do over the perils of hail and frost.

But now, on the eve of threshing they'll tell you that Europe really needs this crop this year that it looks good right now, that their best wheat yield was an average of 28 bushels to the acre, which is 13 higher than the long-time Saskatchewan aver age, and that this year they hop to take off more than 30 bushe to the acre.

Oak Bay Approves Police Suggestions On Traffic Markings

A number of additional traffic markings, suggested by police were adopted by Oak Bay Council meeting Wednesday evening, and other changes will be considered by the municipal engineer and the estimates committee.

Police suggestions adopted by he council were establishment of three pedestrian lanes at bus stops along Oak Bay Avenue. Inersecting streets involved are Monterey Avenue, Hampshire Road and Foul Bay Road.

A street crossing sign will be posted at Estevan Avenue and Dunlevy Street. The municipal engineer, A. S. G. Musgrave, will report on suggestions that stop signs be painted vertically. Resigns be painted vertically. Reports were received of complaints that present stop signs were placed too high to be seen at night.

The council awarded to Ram say Machine Works Ltd. the con tract for supply of cast iron fit-tings required for water main construction on the Hudson's Bay Company's Lansdowne subdivi-sion. Price quoted by the com-pany was $497.77.

The council accepted the offer of an anonymous Oak Bay resident to donate two complete sets of children's playground equip-ment, costing $200 a set, to be installed at Willows Park and at the headland opposite the Dor-chester Apartments, 1370 Beach Drive.

Permission was granted the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada to hold a tag day Sept. 7 in Oak Bay. Approval was granted for issuance of a building permit for construction of a $9,600 home at 2800 Beach

Owing to the absence of three councillors, the council tabled a number of items on the agenda including consideration of letters of the Greater Victoria airport committee urging action on air-port zoning at Gordon Head and regarding Hon. C. D. Howe's proposals for development of Pa-tricia Bay and access to it.

Matters concerning the trans ortation by law were also tabled pending a report from the muni-cipality's solicitors, following which a special meeting of the council will be called.

By Dick Turner Canada To Ease Control When Supply Satisfying Demand

OTTAWA (CP)—Once supply begins to meet and satisfy peacetime demands, Canada's system of controls may be further relaxed and finally removed, Hon. Douglas Abbott, acting finance minister, said here Wednesday

In a speech on the trans-Canada network of the CBC in a series of political free-time broadcasts, Mr. Abbott dealt at length with the gevernment's anti-inflation

Mr. Abbott said the temporary breakdown of price administra-tion in the United States had added greatly to the potential menace of inflation in Canada, Within the last month the Canadian government had taken vigtrol to meet this situation and other changes in conditions.

Price control had been made more flexible and had been concentrated on the more essential items in family expenditure. The Canadian dollar was returned to parity with the United States dollar and the cost of American imports was thereby reduced. More flexibility was also introduced in regard to wage control.

The government believed control over prices would be necessary for a time, but effective con trol would be impossible if wag and salary rates were allowed to rise indiscriminately. Price con-trol still had to contend with the in the cost of production. Canada had still to contend with inflationary pressures from abroad. It still had to contend with the pressure of excess buying-power.

Wage increases, unless accom-panied by an increased output, had the inevitable effect of rais-ing production costs. Wage and salary payments constituted about half of the ultimate cost of all production. The government did not maintain all wage increases mean higher prices. What they did claim was that, in order to maintain price control, the coun try must guard against too rapid and too large an increase in wage

PROBLEM CHILD IS A SUBJECT FOR PSYCHIATRY By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Child psychiatry, one of the newer specialties in medicine, is concerned with the problems of children who do not show satisfactory growth and development Problems vary from mild complaints of nervousness, difficulty in feeding, bed wetting and petty lying, to violent behavior, delinquency and actual mental disorders.

Every physician encounters problem children in his practice. In treating these patients, parents and physicians would like to believe these children will out-grow their difficulties, but experience has shown that many do not outgrow them. In fact, many nervous and mental diseases in adults develop out of these ex-periences in infancy and child-

Child psychiatry is based upon the belief that there is a cause and effect in every problem en-countered. The cause or causes may be difficult to find, but search will often provide clues. SURROUNDINGS IMPORTANT

Problem children always should be studied in their family setting. All members of the family should be interviewed, so the cause of the tension can be found. Recent advances in medicine justify the belief that emosome will not show any physical abnormalities. Others may show some minor condition which makes the child self-conscious.

GREEK COLONISTS BUILT THEATRE ON SIDE OF MOUNT ETNA

The island of Sicily has one of the world's most harmful volcanoes. Known as "Etna" or "Mount Etna," the volcano has exploded more than 100 times, and in certain cases has caused heavy damage.

Etna is a mountain with cra-ters and cones on the top. It is taller than Mount Vesuvius, and is, in fact, taller than any vol-cano on the mainland of Europe. The summit is more than two miles above sea level.

A few thousand feet from the op of Mount Etna are the ruins off an open-air theatre. To this spot, in ancient times, came Greek colonists and, later, Romans, to watch plays.

Those people were able, at times, to watch explosions of the volcano. They could see smoke, ashes and lava come out of one crater or another. There are to-day about 200 openings where explosions have taken place. Sometimes the ashes and lava pour out through several open ngs at the same time.

It is safe to say that the ancient folk spent little time watching the volcano from the theatre. That place was too close to the top for a person to feel safe during an explosion! The ancient Greek colonists spoke about a god of fire named

By Other Dominions With New India

Dr. D. P. Pandia, unofficia representative of the Indian National Congress Party, in Vic toria today, stressed the urgent necessity for close association and understanding between British Dominions and India.

The long struggle between the Nationalists and Britain was at an end, he said, and a closer relationship between Britain an relationship between Britain and New India was being developed. "It is time the other Dominions also extended their co-operation with India in time of peace as they have done in war," he said. "Canada, with her great traditions of justice and fair play, has excluded Indians from entry in the last 30 years and has eve denied Hindus rights of citizen-ship in B.C.," Dr. Pandia said. In India, he said, there were Road Repairs no discriminations against peo-ple from other parts of the Brit-sh Commonwealth. India, housing one-fifth of the world's hymanity, was a focal point which could be converted into a bastion for the preservation of peace and security in the Far and Middle East, he believed. India, he said, would not break away from Britain and the Com-away from Britain and the Com-monwealth, No country could exist in isolation, he added. In his travels, which in the last two years have taken him to South and Central America, the West Indies, the U.S. and Canada, Dr. Pandia said he had been impressed with the fact that whatever the differences in out look, the world itself was one, and the problems with which

LONDON (Reuter) Renewed suggestions that British investors should be allowed to switch their along with some others, and a North American investments folfew gainers appeared. Losses of lowing the approval of the Cana-fractions to two or more points, dian and United States loans to Britain, are looked upon in of-ficial circles here as "premature."

These circles say that if the Stock Exchange asked for such permission British officials would At present only 14 Canadian securities can be freely traded by Britons. On all other Canadian and United States securities British holders are allowed only to sell. They cannot buy. In this way they surrender the dollar proceeds to the British Treasury against sterling payment.

Because British investors realize that Britain, for many years, will not be able to afford any new purchases of North Ameri-can securities, they feel there is no possibility of resuming normal arbitrage.

To protect capital after recent big rises, some investors would like to exchange certain Canadian equities into government or corto exchange from sluggish securities into faster movers with better prospects of capital apprecia-

Despite government requisition Despite government requisition ing of about £428,000,000 ($1,712,000,000) worth of securities during the war, Britain's remaining investments in the United States may have a capital value of about £225,000,000 ($900,000,000). In Canada, British investments were spared during the war chiefly because they were unmarketable.
